The I.R.S. limits the amount a participant may contribute on a tax-deferred basis into an employer's retirement plan. Such limits are based on the calendar year, and may change year-to-year.

1. Enrollment/Change: Employees may enroll or make a change by submitting to the Benefits Office a Voluntary Investment Program Enrollment/Change Form. This is referred to by the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) as a Salary Reduction Agreement. The requested contribution must be in compliance with IRC Sections 403(b), 415 or 402 (g). The allocation of funds can be changed at any time by contacting the company directly.
2. Maximum Contribution: The IRC specifies that although individual limits vary, voluntary employee contributions cannot exceed the cap determined by the IRC, with exceptions permitted by the "catch up" limits pertaining to age 50. To obtain your individual limit calculation, please contact TIAA-CREF at 1-877-842-4833. An individual's limit may be less than the maximum and compliance cannot be assured unless employees review their own contribution level every year. The Benefits Office reserves the right to stop contributions before either the individual limit or IRC cap is exceeded, whichever is lower.
3. Minimum Contribution: You may invest the minimum amount required, which is $15 per pay period.
4. Annual Renewal of Contribution: Contributions begun either through Employee Self-Service or by Salary Reduction Agreement will automatically renew each year effective with the January 10 paycheck. Employees are responsible for reviewing their limit each year to ensure they are contributing at their desired level.
5. Loans: Loans are provided only under the terms and conditions of TIAA's Group Supplemental Retirement Annuity.
6. Withdrawal of Contributions: The Internal Revenue Code restricts access to contributions before age 59 ½ except for one of the following conditions:
 - * Severance from employment,
 - * Hardship, as defined by the IRS "safe harbor" provisions; or
 - * Disability.

All withdrawn contributions are subject to federal income taxation in the year in which they are received. Before age 59 ½, a 10% penalty and restrictions may also apply. Employees should refer to the fund sponsors' Annuity Contracts and Custodial Agreements for details.
